DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1-26 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) and (e) as being unpatentable over Sylvain U.S. Patent No. 6,118,777 (reference A in attached PTO-892).
4. As per claim 1, 8, 15, and 22-26, Sylvain teaches a system for mapping values collected in connection with creation of end-user orders for communications services to corresponding inter-provider orders, comprising:

an end-user ordering module operable to (see Fig. 2; Fig. 9):

determine whether an end-user requested service item contained in a service provider product catalog relates to a service item type having at least one associated developer defined label (DDL), the DDL extending the attributes of the associated service item type by specifying an additional attribute for which a value may be collected from the end-user and supplied in connection with creation of an end-user order for the requested service item, the value not needed to complete the end-user order but collected and supplied to avoid needing to collect the value from the end-user in connection with subsequent creation of an inter-provider order that corresponds to the end-user order (see Fig. 3; column 5, lines 41-51);

if the requested service item relates to a service item type having at least one DDL, prompt a user of the end-user ordering module to collect from the end-user and supply a value for the additional DDL-specified attribute in connection with creation of the end-user order for the requested service item (see Fig. 3; column 5, lines 53-65); and communicate the end-user order for use in subsequently creating the corresponding inter-provider order (see Fig. 3; column 5, lines 66-67 to column 6, lines 1-12); and an inter-provider ordering module coupled to the end-user ordering module and operable to (see Fig. 2):

receive the end-user order (see Fig. 2; column 2, lines 53-58);

determine whether the end-user order has a value for the additional DDL-specified attribute (see Fig. 2; column 2, lines 59-66); and

5. if the end-user order has a value for the additional DDL-specified attribute, automatically map the value from the end-user order to an appropriate field of the inter-provider order such that the value need not be collected from the end-user in connection with creation of the inter-provider order (see Fig. 2; column 3, lines 2-23).

6. As per claim 2, 9 and 16, Sylvain teaches an industry standard Local Service Request (see Fig. 2; column 2, lines 49-58).

7. As per claim 3, 10 and 17, Sylvain teaches the requested service item is an unbundled port (see Fig. 2, column 2, lines 56-58; column 7, lines 30-39);

the additional DDL-specified attribute is selected from the group consisting of a Local Existing Account Number (LEAN) and a Local Existing Account Telephone Number (LEATN) (see Fig. 2; column 2, lines 49-53); and the associated service item type is provided for mapping an unbundled port from an end-user order to an LSR (see Fig. 2; column 2, lines 53-58).

8. As per claim 4, 11 and 18, Sylvain teaches DDL allows a developer of the end-user ordering module to provide for collection of additional attribute values in response to an industry mandated change in LSR format without necessitating the development of new software (see column 7, lines 30-39).

9. As per claim 5, 12 and 19, Sylvain teaches value is automatically mapped to appropriate fields of multiple forms included within the LSR (see Fig. 4; column 7, lines 40-49).

10. As per claim 6, 13 and 20, Sylvain teaches end-user ordering module is operable to relate the requested service item to a product specification and relate the product specification to a service item type to determine whether the requested service item relates to a service item type having a DDL (see Fig. 3; column 5, lines 39-52).

Art Unit: 3691

11. As per claim 7, 14 and 21, Sylvain teaches end-user ordering module is further operable to validate that the value for the additional DDL-specified attribute has been supplied before communicating the end-user order (see column 9, lines 1-13).
